U. S. MOBILIZES 9 DESTROYERS AT SAN PEDRO

Navy's Sudden Movement In Pacific Shrouded With Secrecy

Patrol Officers Rout Crews From Theaters, Amusement Places

(By Associated Press)
SAN PEDRO, Calif., Dec. 21.—The navy high command threw a screen of silence today around the sudden transfer of nine destroyers from their San Diego base to the main body of the fleet at San Pedro.

A radio call in San Diego last night for the entire personnel of the aircraft scouting force to report immediately for duty was described later by an official source as a "serious mistake."

At the time, Rear-Admiral Ernest J. King, commander of the aircraft force, was participating in a surprise conference here with Admiral Arthur J. Heppburn, commander-in-chief of the U. S. fleet. Admiral King flew back to his San Diego headquarters.

Holiday Mobilization
In the absence of other information, shore observers were inclined to believe the destroyer transfer might be nothing more than a "monkey drill," testing the speed of mobilization under holiday conditions.

Except for ships being overhauled in navy yards, the heavy cruisers and battleships of the fleet, together with the aircraft carriers Caratoga and Lexington, are at anchor here for the Christmas holidays.

The sailing of the destroyers under forced draft followed by a few hours the publication of a letter by Secretary Hull stating the present "does not seem an opportune moment" to withdraw American ships from the Sino-Japanese war zone.

Search for Crews
Shore patrol officers combed theaters and other amusement places for crews on holiday leave. Comprising destroyer Squadron 11, the ships in the movement were the Hopkins, Williamson, Childs, Gilmer, Barry, Fox, Brooks, Gifford and Reuben James. Capt. H. J. Pence was in command.

Squadron officers said the transfer was a "surprise," although the destroyers were scheduled for foreign cruises early next year.

A fleet spokesman commented only "no specific action is anticipated. The order itself was customary," merely directing that "a squadron be dispatched immediately to San Pedro."

The navy department in Washington was noncommittal but pointed out Admiral Heppburn has authority to act independently.

He Sees With a Gift Eye

No wonder Frank Chabina smiles. A moment before this picture was taken in a New Orleans, La., hospital, Frank whispered to the surgeon, "Why, you've got your whole hand there!" and his voice trembled. John Amos, 60-year-old heart patient whom Frank had befriended, surrendered his own eye to save the lad's failing sight.

WOMAN SHOTS FOUR CHILDREN

Iowa Farm Woman Says "They Wouldn't Mind Her"; Two Die

(By Associated Press)
WAVERLY, Ia., Dec. 21.—Sheriff Frank Sager said a Bremer county woman shot four of her children in their sleep today, fatally wounding two of them.

He said Mrs. Elias Watters, whom he is holding in the county jail, admitted the shooting and declared the children "wouldn't mind her."

The tragedy took place in the family's farm cabin. Her husband has been employed on a timber clearing project near Lansing, Ia., the sheriff said.

The dead are: Eugene, 1; Beverly, 2.

The wounded: Lavonne, 5, seriously injured, suffering from a rifle bullet in the neck.

Bernard, 9, critically injured, with a wound in the chest, near the heart.

The sheriff said the woman told him she shot her children in the darkness of the small cabin and then went to the cabin of Mrs. Louis Wiehe, nearby, where she fired a shot through a window.

The sheriff said no one in the Wiehe cabin was injured. He said Mrs. Watters explained she had "had some trouble" with Mrs. Wiehe.

Cantonian Named In Third Action

LISBON, Dec. 21.—Robert Bag-nall of Canton was named defendant in a third damage action filed against him Monday by Nelson Stull, East Liverpool, asking $5,000 damages for injuries received in an auto accident Oct. 15.

Stull claims he received permanent injuries while riding in a car operated by George Orin when the defendant, driving on the wrong side of the road, collided with Orin's car. The accident occurred on Route 30 near Bayard.

Two preceding suits filed by other occupants of the machine bring the total amount asked to $11,000.

Senate Committee Says 2,500 Firms Employed Labor Spies

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—The Senate civil liberties committee said today that labor spies were employed by 2,500 firms—"a blue-book of American industry."

And, the senate on work for a report, many of the spies were found to be union members, "including a national vice-president of his union."

The committee, composed of Senators La Follette (Prog-Wis) and Thomas (D-Utah), charged the spying practice violated "the right of free speech and assembly" and that about $10,000,000 had been spent "by certain corporations for spies, munitions and strike-breakers in the past three years."

"The right to work means nothing if it is at the expense of more important rights," the committee asserted. It predicted that labor espionage "will destroy every vestige of right which for 150 years we have thought our constitution guarantees the average individual."

The report noted that the Pen-kerton national detective agency and other organizations had announced abandonment of "industrial espionage," but said the committee "can scarcely receive these announcements of renunciation at face value."

Chairman La Follette said the committee was "preparing appropriate legislation" intended to safeguard "genuine collective bargaining" which the report said "will never be realized until the industrial spy is abolished."

The committee reported that General Motors Corp. "paid $994,855 to detective agencies for spy services" from January, 1934, through July, 1936, and at the time had "a weird framework of spies among spies" to check upon each other.

HOUSING BILL VOTE TO WIND UP CONGRESS

Special Congressional Session Has Been Un-productive One

QUICK VOTE ON PLAN EXPECTED

May Reach Agreement on Farm Bill Some Time In January

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—Republican senators indicated today they would agree to a quick vote on the administration's housing program in order to wind up the un-productive special congressional session.

Senate approval before tonight, leaders said, would make it possible to compose differences between that measure and the house approved bill in time for adjournment tomorrow.

Majority Leader Barkley (D-Ky) said, however, he would prolong the session until Thursday, if necessary, to get the bill to the White House. None of President Roosevelt's six legislative recommendations has been enacted, although the farm bill is in such shape that an agreement in January is expected.

Barkley Agreement
In order to hasten consideration of the housing bill, Barkley made an agreement which forecast trouble for the regular 1938 session. He consented to making the controversial anti-lynching bill a special order of business for Jan. 6, three days after Congress reconvenes.

The senate banking committee worked all day yesterday in order to complete the housing bill, designed to stimulate residential construction. It recommended four major changes in the house measure.

Eliminated was the proposal to restore authority for modernization and repair loans up to $2,500. The committee also extended the amortization period on loans for construction of small homes from 20 to 25 years in order to reduce monthly payments.

A limitation of $3,000,000,000 was placed by the committee on the amount of mortgages which the federal government might insure. The house bill had left this to the discretion of the president.

Eliminates Opposition
The fourth change was a provision to forbid government-controlled mortgage associations from entering the individual home loan field. Senators said this would eliminate opposition from private industry.

Senate and house sessions yesterday were devoted to speeches on a wide range of subjects, as there were no bills before either chamber.

V. F. W. IN WAR AGAINST WAR
Local Post Joins Drive To Obtain Signatures Asking Congress To Keep Out of War

An organized campaign to obtain the signatures of a majority of the citizens of Salem on petitions which call upon Congress to keep America out of war will be launched immediately under the supervision of Al-ken Reynolds post No. 892, Veterans of Foreign Wars. The appeal to Congress reads as follows:

"We, the undersigned citizens of the United States of America, call upon the Congress and the President to adopt and apply policies designed to keep America out of war and supported by a national defense program adequate for the protection of our country and its people."

The plan to convey to Congress evidence of sentiment against war is the chief objective of a nationwide campaign being conducted by 3,600 local units of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, according to Commander Bert Lesch.

"Under our form of government, the question of peace or war rests in the hands of Congress," Commander Lesch pointed out. "We, the people, expect members of Congress to vote in accordance with the will of their constituents. Petitions bearing the signatures of 25 million American citizens will tell Congress, in unmistakable terms, that the vast majority of the citizens of the United States want America kept out of war."

A quantity of petition blanks were received today by Commander Lesch from national headquarters at Kansas City, Mo. These petition blanks will be circulated by members of Post No. 892 and distributed to various other local civic, patriotic, religious and fraternal groups.

Gold Star Mothers in this community will be given the first opportunity to affix their signatures to the petition.

LINER DAMAGED IN COLLISION

Water Seeps Into U. S. Vessel; Crew of 75 Reported Aboard

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, Dec. 21.—Lloyds announced today the United States liner City of Hamburg had wrecked, she was sinking after a collision 10 miles east of Terschelling, the Netherlands.

The City of Hamburg is owned by the Baltimore Mail Steamship company and is an 8,424-ton vessel. She was built in 1919.

The distress message was picked up by Lloyds North Foreland wireless station.

The vessel left Hamburg for Southampton Dec. 19. Terschelling Island is off Friesland province at the northwestern tip of the Netherlands.

The city of Hamburg was in trouble once before when she lost her rudder in a gale in January, 1936, off Newfoundland. She weathered the storm, however, and made port after her passengers had been transferred to another vessel.

J. H. Threadgill, traffic manager of the Baltimore mail line, said today the company's sinking liner had a passenger list of "not more than four or five and a crew of 75."

Salem State Senator One Of Seven Named To Investigate State Departments

State Senator John Taylor was appointed one of seven senators to make an investigation of state departments.

After a battle at last night's session, when the rules committee of the Ohio Senate reported out the Seidner resolution, the senate this afternoon approved the seven members, five Democrats and two Republicans, to constitute the investigating committee.

There was a scramble among the senators to get on the committee, but the Salem man was the first line of the seven chosen.

Burglar Takes Furs Valued at $400 At Home Near Bayard

LISBON, Dec. 21.—George Nist, of R. D. Bayard, reported to Sheriff Harry L. Gosney today that a burglar stole $400 worth of furs from a garage adjoining his home where they were stored early Monday morning.

Furs taken were red fox, coon and muskrat. Nist, a fur dealer, told authorities the garage was wired with a burglar alarm system, but it failed to work when the thief gained entrance through a side window of the building. The window was removed by the burglar.

Sheriff Gosney is having the frame of the window examined for fingerprints and has notified all fur dealers in the vicinity to watch for any suspicious person attempting to sell furs.

Samuel Wilkoff, 74, Youngstown, Dies

(By Associated Press)
YOUNGSTOWN, Dec. 21.—Samuel Wilkoff who landed in America at 19 with two cents in his pocket, died this morning at 74, president of the million-dollar Wilkoff Co. dealers in scrap.

A native of Poland, he got his start in New York selling tinware. Later he became a peddler, in Beaver Falls, Pa.

In 1888 he and his brother William established a junk business in Akron. He moved here in 1901 and with other members of his family built the scrap business here.

Dies In Fire

GREENCASTLE, Ind., Dec. 21.—Fire swept the Crawford hotel here today, burning to death Mrs. Louise Keukelack, 40, of Mishawaka, and routing 33 other persons in night clothing. Three of them suffered serious injuries.

The fire started in a rooming house on the second floor, burning for an hour before it was brought under control.

"I believe that the overwhelming majority of all countrymen, regardless of politics, race, creed, or color from the days of Washington to this hour have desired to pursue the even tenor of their way at peace with all nations and all peoples," Mr. Roosevelt said.

"But throughout our long history we Americans have re-elected every suggestion that ultimate security can be assured by closing our eyes to the fact that whether we like it or not we are a part of a large world of other nations and peoples."

"As such we owe some measure of cooperation and even leadership in maintaining standards of conduct helpful to the ultimate goal of general peace."

Landon Pledges Roosevelt Support In Foreign Ills

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—Alf M. Landon gave President Roosevelt today a pledge of "cooperation and support in the difficult foreign situations confronting your administration."

In a telegram made public at the state department, the 1936 Republican standard bearer and former Kansas governor criticized members of Congress of both parties who he said "by their actions helped create the impression on foreign nations that they do not trust your administration of foreign affairs."

"They would hamstring your conduct of an extremely delicate foreign situation," Landon wrote.

The president, in reply, said "the generous spirit of your telegram helps me to meet the problems which confront our country in the field of foreign relations during these troublous times."

FIND BULLETS IN BODY OF SEMI-RECLUSE

Alex Pogrozelski, 60, Last Seen On Saturday; Youngstown Man Finds Frozen Body In Farmhouse Today

CANFIELD, Dec. 21.—Mahoning county authorities were confronted today with a mystery in the death of 60-year old Alex Pogrozelski, a semi-recluse, whose bullet-pierced and frozen body was found on the farm where he lived alone, two miles northwest of Canfield.

It was first believed Pogrozelski met death by freezing, until four bullet wounds were found in his body by H. L. Williams, Canfield undertaker. He had been shot in the chest, side, arm and leg.

Coroner David Hauser of Mahoning county conducted an examination of the body, but had made no official report late this afternoon. Investigators, however, are confident that the man was murdered.

Pogrozelski is believed to have been dead two days when his body was found slumped on the floor of the farmhouse, the head resting on a small cot. A light was burning in the room in which the body was found, leading authorities to believe that the man was killed either Saturday night or early Sunday morning.

An examination of the home disclosed that one of the windows had been penetrated by a bullet. Pogrozelski was last seen Saturday afternoon when he attended a public sale in Canfield. A visitor called at his home Sunday noon, but left when no one answered his knocks on the door, officers said.

The discovery of the body this morning was made by a Youngstown man, who was in the habit of visiting the Pogrozelski home to bring provisions for several dogs which Pogrozelski was keeping for him.

The victim has no close relatives in this vicinity. His nearest kin, a sister, lives in Boston, Mass.

ASK INCREASE IN WIRE RATES

Western Union, Postal Telegraph Companies to Request 15 Per Cent Raise In Rates

Western Union Telegraph Co., and Postal Telegraph Co., today jointly announced intention to apply to the federal communications commission for a 15 per cent increase in rates.

The increase, if granted, would be the first in 30 years of operation, except for the World War period when the utility was under governmental control, the announcement stated.

The increase is needed because the "financial resources and credit of the companies are being jeopardized by the decline in revenues brought on by the general slackening of the business of the country," the statement said.

E. Liverpool Store Seeks To Restrain Action of Pickets

LISBON, Dec. 21.—Members of the East Liverpool Meat Cutters union which were named defendants in a suit for a restraining order filed Monday afternoon in common pleas court by the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co.

The local is charged with picketing the company's store at 527-529 Market st., East Liverpool. The petition states none of the stores are striking and claims there is no legitimate trade dispute warranting the action.

The pickets are said to parade in front of the building bearing placards stating "This Store Is Unfair To Organized Labor." According to the petition the defendants, or their agents, are "picketing the store 'for the express purpose of injuring the plaintiff's business as well as discouraging and intimidating persons wishing to engage in legitimate business with the store.'"

"Unless the defendants are restrained," the petition reads, "they will forcibly prevent deliveries of foodstuffs to the store and threaten violence to truckmen making deliveries."

The plaintiff company declares its employees are free to join any union with which they may wish to align themselves; but, it is explained, they do not wish to join the local union.

Albert Millard, president of the local and James Weston, secretary, are specifically mentioned.

THE MERRY PART

Let us all join our voices and at the count of "Three!" shout a "Merry Christmas" to—

The staggering postmen and weary mail clerks who make it possible for a nation of trusting souls to send Christmas cards and packages to distant relations with complete confidence that somehow all of them will be delivered before next Saturday.

The exhausted clerks who patiently explain for the ten thousandth time that this would make a very amusing toy for a five year old child and that pocket-books and accessories are on the next floor.

The Santa Clauses who are, after all, only human beings with tired arches, but who manage for the most part to convince little boys and girls that beneath that red coat there beats a heart big enough to encompass all the wants of all the children on earth.

The thousands—the millions—of men and women everywhere who get into the spirit of the great game of "Let's Make Believe That Once A Year Everybody Acts As He Would Like To Act All The Time."

Let's do this now because by the end of the week it will be almost too late to do anything about Merry Christmas—or maybe it hasn't occurred to you that without the week before Merry Christmas, coming to a climax Christmas eve, there wouldn't be anything so very merry about it?

NOT SO SPECIAL

It is timely to recall now, at the end of the special session of congress, that no one clearly understood why President Roosevelt called it.

That's still a question. It is difficult to see what has been done—with one exception—that couldn't have been done in the regular session.

That one exception, furthermore, could not be of the President's intending. It is increasing evidence that his administration is in for tough sledding on its legislative program.

Defeat of the wage-hour bill in the house was the sign of congressional revolt against half baked ideas proposed for legislative action under administrative blessing. For the second time, the first being the court packing proposal, congress has gagged on a new deal measure.

It has swallowed others. Apparently, it is about to swallow a farm bill it neither understands nor wants. If the purpose of the special session had been to show what trouble lies ahead for new dealism whenever it runs contrary to congressional taste, the session could be called a thumping success.

ALL QUIET

One week has passed since the United States learned about the Japanese attack on the American gunboat Panay—passed quietly.

That should interest all persons, and there are many of them, who have been saying cynically in the years since the World war that the war spirit here could be fanned into a flame again without any trouble.

It should interest them because proof that the war spirit has been smothered by realization of war's folly now is available. Japan has been criticized freely for its insult to the United States flag—and pitied because it is, itself, a victim of war madness. Americans are disgusted, not enraged.

This does not mean that America is safe from war. It does mean, however, that America is safer than was generally believed from any war which it possibly can avoid. There is no popular support for belligerency. The people want their government to steer clear of the pitfalls in which Mars traps unwary victims.

A week's quiet discussion of the Panay incident is as clear an expression of public policy as the President of the United States, the department of state and the congress could ask for.

The wavering congressman doesn't have to climb the fence now to reach the other side. His own party simply shows him the gate.—Boston Transcript.

THE STARS SAY

For Wednesday, December 22

This should be a day of great excitement and commotion, according to the lunar transits. There may be a sudden change, removal or journey, either of which would be of benefit and of far-reaching influence, if managed with calmness and discretion and not turmoil, quarrels and confusion. Employment, business and finances are well fortified, but in all be cautious and discreet.

If This Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a year of surprising progress and opportunity, with sudden change and other surprising developments. But these decided benefits would be nullified by indulgence in quarrels or reckless and impetuous behavior.

A child born on this day may be efficient, original and independent, with many opportunities for signal success in life. But it should have early training and discipline regarding its impetuous, quarrelsome and wayward nature. It should have a sound business training, although possibly in unusual lines.

O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

NEW YORK, Dec. 21—Manhattan Transfer, save for an elegy in The New Yorker, passed from the scene without a single editorial lament. For years it was a peg upon which to hang a vaudeville, revue or paragraphic jest. It was opened at the same time as the Pennsylvania station, 30 years ago.

In the beginning it was merely a dinky station at which all trains on the Pennsylvania stopped while changing engines to electric cabs. When the electrification of the road was extended to Wilmington the station was no longer needed and was abandoned.

For millions of first-time visitors the cry of "Manhattan Transfer" was a signal they would soon see the metropolis. Thus it always sent pulses pumping. Yet there was nothing whatever to Manhattan Transfer, save this lonely little building.

No one lived there and there was not even a ticket seller. Express men boarded the trains at this point to check baggage about the city. And there was a brick walk upon which many notables stepped for a bit of leg stretching, but it is also gone with the station.

No other living editor holds the all-time record for occupying so many editorial posts as Perriton Maxwell. His list includes six newspapers and seventeen magazine editorships. When asked why he hopped from bough to bough, he replied simply that in every instance it was to better himself financially. Among his jobs were editorships of Cosmopolitan, Hearst's, Judge, Leslie's, Arts and Decorations, Police Magazine, Nash's of London and the Theatre Magazine.

Bob Davis, when head man of the Munsey group of magazines, reputedly discovered more new writers than any other editor. Chief of whom was Fannie Hurst, who sold him her first short story for $28. Max Brand, so called king of the pulps, was also, as I recall, a discovery of Davis. And, of course, he did much to stimulate O. Henry in the faltering days when he was not so certain he had the story telling gift, later so universally acclaimed. When I was bombarding the Street and Smith magazines and not making the slightest scratch, Herb Roth suggested I train my guns on Davis. I did, and while I never scored a bull's eye, I never received the customary printed rejection. There was always a cheery, better-luck-next-time note. And only a free lance starving for a back-pat knows what such cheerios mean.

Shella Barrett is regarded as the most extravagant of the telephonists. Away from the spotlight and microphone, she is not at all garrulous. Indeed somewhat reserved. But now and then after finishing her night club chore she feels restless and talkative and so gets on the phone, calling up friends in California, Florida, Europe and where not. She has had weekly phone bills of more than $500, which gives the idea.

Revenge: The outstanding distasteful chore for the professional photographer is assignment to take a family group picture, especially where there are many children. This offers the most difficult posing and is rarely satisfactory to those posed for the cameraman. Recently a bunch of lensmen were assigned to take a picture of Joseph P. Kennedy, then the U. S. merchant marine chief, now ambassador to Great Britain, and his family, at their Bronxville estate. Both Kennedy and wife dislike publicity and he told the photographers so frankly. But when the visitors were so insistent Kennedy left them a moment and returned with his wife and nine-count 'em nine—children, all parading out on the front porch, single file. They didn't have to ask Kennedy for one of the prop photographic smiles, he was so amused at their bewildered expressions he fairly beamed.

Dog lovers have the rarest of treats in the new Ed Wynn show. An act called Gordon's dogs. Scene: A man reading a newspaper. One by one without coaching the dog actors come on and perform extraordinary capers. All are miscellaneous mutts and the climax is when one outrageous pup suddenly makes the man perform.

From a trade paper: "McIntyre, the columnist, napped most of the time, but jumped to his feet twice with a few words." Every now and then a lucid interval!

We have never heard anyone who could shout "Board" with that quick and piercing up-take like a conductor. It is one of the cheerios of railroading.

FAULTY CIRCULATION

MANY ILLS of the body are thought by laymen to be due to poor circulation. To be frank about it, the circulation is too much blamed for the ailments of mankind. Yet there is no doubt that some of the chronic disorders of middle age are made worse by faulty circulation.

It is a blessing to be born with a sturdy and healthy body. Persons so endowed rarely suffer from any disturbances of the circulation. Others fall victims to them in spite of all precautions.

It is probable that heredity plays an important part in this disturbing disorder.

There are some individuals who are careless in their choice of food and have other faulty health habits, yet show no changes in circulation. Others have signs of wear and tear and have trouble with the circulation at an early age. The condition of the blood vessels gives a pretty good idea of the physical age, if not the actual age in years. There is a well-known expression, "A man is as old as his arteries." This saying states a pretty accurate fact.

The heart and blood vessels the veins and arteries constitute the circulatory system. The good or bad circulation of blood depends on the efficiency of this system.

One of the most common disturbances of the circulatory system is that known as hardening of the arteries. Although the actual cause is not known, many factors have a part in its development.

Diet is a Factor

Excessive indulgence in alcoholic beverages, as well as in salty, pickled, fried and greasy foods, have something to do with bringing on this trouble. Undue strain on the heart, prolonged exertion, fatigue and worry are other causative factors which must not be overlooked.

Disturbances of circulation can often be traced to a focus or center of infection located somewhere within the body. Diseased tonsils, teeth and nasal sinuses are singly and collectively a danger to the body. They may affect the circulation. Obesity, excessive fatness, is often a forerunner of faulty circulation. Overweight individuals are prone to develop varicose veins and hardening of the arteries. Sometimes they have inflammations and other disturbances of the veins.

Since no two cases are alike, definite rules for the prevention of faulty circulation cannot be provided. But everybody can guard against the progress of disabilities in this field by reporting to the doctor for physical examinations at periodic intervals. All weaknesses and disorders should be overcome when possible. Diet and the mode of living should be regulated to the needs of the individual.

Dr. Copeland is glad to answer inquiries from readers who send an addressed, stamped envelope with their questions. Address all letters to Dr. Copeland, New York City.

Will Rogers, with Rochelle Hudson and Tom Brown, in "Judge Priest" at the State tonight and Wednesday.

Will Rogers is starred in the title role of "Judge Priest" which shows at the State tonight and Wednesday. The Irvin S. Cobb character, a kindly, humorous southern jurist, is brought to the screen by Rogers in the film which plays a return engagement here.

Tom Brown, Rochelle Hudson, Anita Louise and Stepin Fetchit have supporting roles.

Judge's Nephew Home

The Judge's nephew, Tom Brown, has returned home after graduating from a northern law school.

Tom sees much of lovely Anita Louise, but because of the mystery surrounding her origin his mother disapproves, hoping he will marry instead Rochelle Hudson, daughter of the town prosecuting attorney. Tom is looking for his first case as a practicing lawyer and hardly knows what to do.

He finally is assigned the defense of an itinerant blacksmith involved in a local brawl, but before the case has proceeded very far it turns into a stirring drama with far-reaching effects. In his lovable, philosophical, humorous manner, Will manages to set things right again, and the romance ends happily.

Two Films at Grand

Two pictures will be seen tonight and Wednesday at the Grand. The first is "Murder in Greenwich Village," featuring Richard Arlen, Fay Wray, Raymond Walburn and Wyn Cahoon.

grapher, gets involved in a murder case when Kay Cabot (Miss Wray) whom he meets accidentally, is accused of murdering a painter in Steve's building. The girl maintains that she was in the building visiting Steve. Things get more and more tangled up as one of Steve's models suggests blackmailing Kay's father and is found strangled to death.

The second film on the double bill is "A Girl With Ideas." The cast includes Wendy Barrie, Walter Pidgeon, Kent Taylor, Dorothea Kent and George Barbier.

Society Girl Role

Wendy Barrie has the unusual role of a rich society girl who wins a newspaper in a libel suit over a story she doesn't like, and with the aid of society pals decides that she would make a fine editor herself.

Her efforts to put the paper on a paying basis and establish a new code of behavior among reporters on the staff, provide the theme for the story. By serving tea in the editorial rooms each afternoon, and getting her socialite friends to pry into the private affairs of the city's important leaders, she produces a newspaper that scores sensational success.

CHOWCHILLA Cal.—After striking a power line carrying 11,000 volts with his airplane, Roland Klawitter landed his ship and emerged uninjured. The impact of the crash snapped two power poles and split a third.

The Mesquiteers Head Star Bill For Free Movie

In addition to the regular weekly programs and the Christmas features at the theaters this week the seventh annual free Christmas show for all youngsters of the city will be given by the Walken brothers at 10:15 a. m. Wednesday at the Grand.

Special features for the children's entertainment will include: "The Three Mesquiteers", a western action story; "Broken Toys", a Walt Disney Silly Symphony Christmas cartoon in technicolor; "Bored of Education", an Our Gang comedy; "Aviator Shorty", a comedy with "Shorty, the Chimpanzee"; and "Mickey's Fire Brigade", technical or Mickey Mouse cartoon.

The feature film, "The Three Mesquiteers", has Syd Saylor, Bob Livingston and Ray Corrigan in the title roles.

The story opens with a migration of World War veterans and their families into the rich grazing lands of New Mexico, which have just been opened for settlers.

The cattle owners, holders of the lands, oppose the settlers, since it means the end of their government grants for grazing lands. The "Three Mesquiteers" take up the side of the new settlers and through their efforts the situation is cleared up.

Mr. And Mrs. W.J. Venable Married 50 Years On Dec. 28

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Venable of W. Seventh st., will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary on Tuesday, Dec. 28, holding open house at their home for friends, neighbors and relatives.

The couple's son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Venable of Patmos will entertain 41 relatives at a family dinner Sunday, the day after Christmas, at their home in Patmos, where Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Venable formerly resided. Friends and former neighbors in that vicinity will be welcomed during the afternoon. Among those who will attend the dinner are the couple's only grandchildren, Misses Ruth and Letha Venable; Mr. Venable's niece and nephew, Harold and Miss Eva Weingart; his uncle, P. D. Stratton of Akron, and several nieces and nephews of Mrs. Venable.

Mrs. Virgil Battin O. E. S. Hostess

Mrs. Virgil Battin of Massillon, retiring worthy matron of Eastern Star No. 334, Order of the Eastern Star, was hostess at a dinner party last evening in Spanish Tavern. Mrs. Battin entertained chapter officers, choir, pages and registration, instruction and flower committee members.

Attractive table appointments were appropriate for the Yuletide season. Favors at the places were small china dolls carrying baskets of candy. Places were arranged at the table for 34 O. E. S. members.

Following the dinner the group went to the home of Mrs. A. E. Beardmore, East State st., where gifts were distributed by a Santa Claus. A chapter prophecy, dated for 1947, was read and contests were enjoyed. The Beardmore home was beautifully decorated with pine, evergreen and a large Christmas tree.

Girls' Trades Class Enjoys Party

The Girls' Trades Preparatory class enjoyed a Christmas party at the home of Miss Mary Bohr, N. Lincoln ave., Monday night.

A short business meeting in charge of Miss Ella Jane Smith, president, was followed by a gift exchange, games and other informal entertainment. Lunch was served by the hostess.

The organization will meet the second Tuesday of each month. Miss Jeanette Cioti is secretary-treasurer.

The next session on Jan. 11 will be held at the home of Miss Betty Bradley, Newgarden rd.

Girl Scouts Meet, Sing Carols

Following last night's meeting of the Girl Scouts at the Methodist church, the 60 girls, directed by Mrs. C. J. Lehwald and Mrs. Orein Naragon went caroling.

Returning to the church, the group enjoyed a lunch and exchanged Christmas gifts.

The work during recent meetings has provided a number of attractive toys to be given to the Red Cross for distribution to needy youngsters.

Miss Martha Krauss Plans Recital

Miss Martha Krauss, instructor of piano, will present a group of her pupils in a program at the library assembly room at 8 p. m. Wednesday, Dec. 29.

The recital is open to the public and a special invitation to attend is extended friends and relatives of the students, about 17 of whom are expected to participate.

The complete program will be announced later.

Book Club Holds Christmas Program

A Christmas program in charge of Mrs. C. C. Dole's committee was presented at a delightful meeting of the Book Club yesterday afternoon in the public library.

Mrs. R. E. Smucker gave an interesting account of her "Mediterranean Cruise" and showed pictures taken during the trip. Special music included two vocal solos, "He Shall Feed His Flock" from "The Messiah" and an old Christmas song, by Mrs. L. D. Cessna; and a piano number, "Two Larks," played by Mrs. Frederick Kirkbride.

Mrs. Dole's program committee included Mrs. L. W. Matthews, Mrs. A. I. Getz, Mrs. Louis Bloomberg and Mrs. Ralph Long.

Tea was served and gifts exchanged during a social hour which followed the program. The hospitality committee, headed by Mrs. C. E. McCluggage, was in charge.

The next session will be Jan. 3 at the library when a program on "What's New in Books" will be presented.

Calumet Club Dance Dec. 27

Invitations have been issued for the annual Calumet club dance, which will be held at the Elks ball room Monday, Dec. 27.

Johnny Martone and his popular mid-western orchestra have been engaged to play for dancing from 9:30 until 1:30.

The Calumet dance is yearly the high spot of the Christmas social season, attracting a large number of college students, home for vacation, in addition to Calumet club members and their guests.

Hold Get-Together

A group of friends enjoyed a dinner recently at Schell's restaurant, later going to the home of Mrs. Arnold Seeds, Park ave., where the evening was spent informally. A gift exchange and games were enjoyed. Seventeen girls attended the event which was their annual Christmas party.

Several guests were present from Youngstown and Mineral Ridge.

Mrs. Rena Kennegew and daughter, Miss Bettie Lee Kennegew, spent Sunday and Monday in Cleveland, where they attended the performance of the Ballet Russe Sunday afternoon in the public auditorium.

William McClain of Sharon, Pa., who has been recovering from a recent illness at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. McClain, N. Ellsworth ave., has returned to his home.

Mrs. Carl Juergens, Mrs. Herman Kuseley and Mrs. James Fisher have returned from Pittsburgh where yesterday they attended funeral service for their aunt, Mrs. John Albert.

Mrs. R. C. Turner of North Lincoln ave., left today for Detroit to spend the holidays with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Wallace.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Burt of Portsmouth are spending the holidays with their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. William Vaughn, Homewood ave.

Mrs. D. E. Mather of East State st., left yesterday for Chicago to visit her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Sanborn Hale.

Gordon Westcott Hicks of East Fifth st., who has been ill in a Youngstown hospital for the last two years, has returned to his home.

Miss Anne Winkle of Youngstown was a houseguest of Miss Justine Stamp, Maple st., during the weekend.

Mrs. Theodore Jewell, North Ellsworth ave., has been called to Cleveland by the illness of her mother, Mrs. A. J. Spiry.

Mrs. E. Wisner has gone to West View, Pa., to spend the holidays with her son, R. A. Wisner, and family.

Mrs. John Tilley Named By Class

Farr class members of the Christian church, meeting last night at the home of Miss Lena Beardmore, Summit st., elected Mrs. John Tilley as president.

Other officers are: Vice president, Mrs. William Shaffer; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. R. O. Cline; assistant, Mrs. Oliver Linton.

A coverdinner dinner preceded the meeting. Members exchanged Christmas gifts. Plans were made for continuing the "traveling basket" project, with Miss Lena Beardmore in charge. Arrangements were discussed for choosing new "pals" at the next meeting, Jan. 1.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Sharkey, Damascus road, student at Flora Stone Mather college of Western Reserve university, Cleveland, is visiting her family during the Christmas holidays. She will return to college Monday, Jan. 3.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Y. Howell of East State st. have gone to Detroit to spend the holidays with relatives.

YULE PROGRAM AT LEETONIA

LEETONIA, Dec. 21.—The annual Christmas party of St. Paul's Lutheran Sunday school will be held Thursday evening, Dec. 23, in the recreation room following a program in the church. The mid-night service Christmas Eve will begin at 11:15 p. m.

The choir presented a cantata, "The Story of Christmas," by H. Alexander Matthews, at the evening service Sunday.

Prayer meetings Cottage prayer meetings are planned by members of the Presbyterian church. This week's meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Sara K. Rush, 207 High st. The lesson will be the 13th and 14th chapters of Romans.

Grange Will Meet The regular meeting of Midway grange No. 1483 will be held Thursday evening. Everyone is requested to bring a 10-cent gift for the Christmas exchange. Refreshments will consist of candy and apples. Each family is requested to bring a pound of candy.

Visiting Here Merle Greenamyer, of Philadelphia, is visiting his sister, Mrs. Eva S. G. Ashley for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Grace, and Miss Grace Ann Gibson returned to their home in Pittsburgh Saturday after several days' visit with Mr. Grace's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Grace and Miss Gibson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gibson.

Jack Holt, a student at the school for deaf children, Columbus, is spending his vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Holt, Sr. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Metz and son Allen returned Sunday from a visit with Mrs. Metz' sister, Mrs. Paul Gorman, at Salem.

Wed 71 Years

KITTANNING, Pa., Dec. 21.—Christmas will be a day of rejoicing for the Tobias Meyers family—140 members.

It will be the 71st wedding anniversary of Meyers, 94-year-old Civil war veteran, and his wife, Alwilda, 90.

Celebrating with them will be nine children, 43 grandchildren, 83 great-grandchildren, and one great-great-grandchild.

Fremont Fish Hatchery Sends Fish Tale That Proves Hard To Swallow

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—The Bureau of Fisheries got hooked today with a fish story that it doesn't know whether to swallow.

"We have been troubled with kingfishers in our private hatchery," said an anonymous letter-writer from Fremont, O., "and after reading your advice we put wires over the ponds."

This just made things easier for the fish-eating birds, the writer added, because they came and sat on the wires. Then he built a network of pipes and nozzles that shot streams of water on the fishers.

Social Events In Lisbon

Members of The Women's Relief Corp met this afternoon at corps headquarters. Several important business matters were discussed.

Methodist Episcopal church Sunday school members are planning a Christmas entertainment at the church Thursday evening. A one-act play and special music are included in the program.

A gift exchange and lunch will be program features when Ladies of the Golden Eagle meet here this evening.

George Williams, Youngstown, was a Lisbon visitor Monday.

Deputy Sheriff M. K. Dudy has recovered from a week's illness, reporting for work Monday.

Edwin Helman, Cleveland, is visiting his aunt, Mrs. Jennie C. McMillen.

Boycott Appeal

YOUNGSTOWN, Dec. 21.—United labor congress last night voted to ask its member unions, locals of AFL bodies, to co-operate in a boycott against Japanese goods. Secretary Charles Hogg announced today.

Hogg said a labor congress committee will ask merchants to quit stocking Japanese products.

WHERE SECONDS COUNT

THEY CHOOSE HAMILTON

Nowhere is time more important than aboard today's high speed transport planes. So when four out of five of the country's leading airlines choose Hamilton time, it's NEWS.

Hamilton is the official watch for Eastern, TWA, United and Northwest. You also will find in the wide range of beautiful Hamiltons the lifetime service and accuracy you wish. May we show them to you?

SEARCH FOR COUNTY AGENT

Paulding Farm Leader,
Missing 6 Days, May Have Been Abducted

(By Associated Press)

PAULDING, Dec. 21 — Sheriff Arthur Betts today offered a $500 reward for information concerning James F. Johnson, 36, and expressed belief the Paulding county agricultural agent might have been a victim of foul play.

Circulars with Johnson's picture and description were sent to police of Indiana, Michigan, Pennsylvania and Illinois. He disappeared last Wednesday.

H. C. Ramsower, director of agricultural extension activities for Ohio, informed Col. Lynn Black, state highway patrol superintendent, that Johnson apparently was kidnapped.

Black said in Columbus that Ohio patrolmen and Indiana and Michigan state police were working on the theory that the missing man might have been abducted by hitch-hikers.

Johnson's friends said he was punctual for appointments and always advised his office of his whereabouts. He was enroute to a farm meeting at Bowling Green when he disappeared.

Patrol Too Good;
Nab Complainants

(By Associated Press)

LAURINSBURG, N. C., Dec. 21. — Church officials asked police to patrol a dangerous curve near the church during worship; the reason — there was too much noise.

The police obliged. The first speeder stopped was a preacher; the second, the county judge; the third, a deacon.

The curve is patrolled no longer.

Tax Income Up

CLEVELAND, Dec. 21. — Northern Ohio income tax collections for 1937 stood today at $75,189.51, as compared with $42,608.87 for last year.

Frank F. Gentsch, collector of internal revenue of the Cleveland district, reported a 100 per cent increase in individual income tax collections and a 70 per cent rise in corporate taxes.

Physician Dies

WOOSTER, Dec. 21. — Funeral services were planned today for Dr. John W. Irvin, 80, a physician more than 50 years. He practiced at Ashland, and Magnetic Springs, before coming here.

Weatherman Sends Snow To Aid Home Decorators

More Entries for Home Lighting Contest Seen As Deadline Is Extended

Extension of the deadline for the Christmas lighting and decorating contest to Christmas eve, Dec. 24, has, as expected, produced additional entries.

The success of this unique event, sponsored by the Salem Garden Club and The Salem News, is already assured, with home owners in practically every part of the city represented among the entries to date.

In some cases, decorations have been completed. In others the entrants are busily engaged in adjusting bulbs, splicing wires, hunting up sockets and working out their own particular decorating schemes.

Today's snowfall should provide added impetus to the decorators inasmuch as many beautiful effects may be obtained when the ground is coated with white.

If the weatherman permits the snow to remain, it should make a trip around the city on Christmas night well worth while.

It will aid the more extensive displays planned for lawns, shrubbery and trees, as well as the dwellings themselves.

Picture a snow-covered lawn flooded with multi-colored lights, glittering stars, white crosses — scenes of inestimable beauty thus may be achieved. The floodlighting of a metal reflector at the base of a tree in the front yard. A colored glass lens or filter over the reflector "colors" the snow and lends beauty to even the most ordinary lawn.

Electrical stores have all the materials needed for such a grouping.

Former Lisbonite Killed In Crash

LISBON, Dec. 21. — Eppie Dillard, negro, former Lisbon resident, was instantly killed Sunday in a traffic accident near New Castle, Pa. Dillard and a friend, James Elliott, were pushing their disabled car along the road when a machine driven by William Leitch of New Castle struck both men. Elliott was seriously injured.

Dillard, 55, was born in Lisbon and resided here for a number of years. He leaves a sister, Miss Jessie Dillard and a brother Morris, of Lisbon.

Leetonia's $19,896 Street Job Okayed

LEETONIA, Dec. 21. — United States Senator Robert J. Bulkley advised Mayor John A. Arnold today that the WPA had approved a $19,896 street improvement project providing jobs for 40 men here.

WASHINGTONVILLE

The Fortnightly club members were entertained at a Christmas party, on Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Mark Klingensmith.

Mrs. Vera Hepler was a guest.

Cards were enjoyed, with honors won by Mrs. J. A. Stouffer and Mrs. H. L. McNeal.

The annual exchange of Christmas gifts was a feature. The hostess served lunch. On Wednesday evening, Dec. 29, the club will enjoy a Family night in the K. of P. hall.

Jolly Twelve Club Meets

The Jolly Twelve club members were guests on Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Russell Smith.

Mrs. Carl Weikart was a guest. Three tables of cards were in play with prizes won by Mrs. Merle Cutchall and Mrs. Carl Weikart.

The consolation gift went to Mrs. Roy Mathey. An exchange of gifts was enjoyed. Lunch was served at a table prettily decorated with Christmas appointments. The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Donald Spear.

Mrs. Ivan Davis entertained her Sunday school class at a Christmas party in her home on Thursday evening. The Christmas story was given by Mrs. Davis and Christmas carols were sung. Contests and games were enjoyed with prizes won by Hazel Stouffer, Ethel Brain and Lois Ann Longanecker. The exchange of gifts was an interesting feature. The hostess served lunch.

Class Entertained

The Sunday school class of girls taught by Mrs. Don Weikart was entertained on Thursday evening in the home of Miss Helen Mae Atkinson, when an exchange of gifts was enjoyed. Contests and games were enjoyed with prizes won by Bernice Weikart, Jean Call and Marjorie Smith. The hostess served lunch. Each member received a gift from their teacher, Mrs. Weikart.

A Midnight Christmas Service

A midnight Christmas service will be held at Trinity Lutheran church on Friday evening at 11:30 o'clock.

Two Are Hurt

LISBON, Dec. 21. — A horse and pony injured two rural Lisbon residents in accidents Sunday.

Jack Carroll, young son of William Carroll, sustained a broken leg when a pony he was riding fell and rolled on him. A kick from a horse broke Walter Hayes' right arm at his home near Bethel church Sunday.

PWA Workers Begin Construction Of $70,000 Annex To High School Building

LISBON, Dec. 21.—Work on David Anderson High school's $70,000 combined auditorium gymnasium, halted last week by unfavorable weather, opened Monday when 20 PWA workers reported at the site adjoining the school building.

Under the terms of the contract, work was scheduled to start Dec. 9. Snow and ice forced a temporary suspension after the White Construction Co., of Canton, contract holders, had moved their equipment here.

Voters authorized a $35,000 bond issue last March enabling the board of education to secure a PWA grant for the balance.

The building must be completed before the opening of the fall school term.

Gunderman, Former Patrolman, Freed

SOMERSET, Pa., Dec. 21.—Stacy Gunderman, former state patrolman convicted of slaying hotelman Frank C. Monaghan of Uniontown, Pa., was freed today on parole by State Supreme Court Justice George W. Maxey.

After listening to a five minute talk by Defense Counsel John Dugan Jr., Justice Maxey directed that the former officer be released "immediately" into custody of a probation officer.

Gunderman was convicted last February on charges of inflicting fatal injuries on the 64-year old innkeeper, while questioning him in the basement of the Uniontown courthouse concerning the cutting of county Detective John C. Wall.

1,557,689 Persons Employed By WPA

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—The Works Progress Administration reported today that 1,557,689 persons were employed on work relief projects during the week ended Dec. 11. There were 20,128 fewer during the week ended Dec. 4.

Decreases were reported by Illinois, Florida, New York state outside New York City, West Virginia, the District of Columbia, and Hawaii. The Illinois decline was the largest—1,310.

"Beauty's A Charm" by HARRIET HINSDALE

"So, it's true—that they've been hinting. You—and this hound Preston!" he exclaimed thickly. "And I wouldn't believe it, damn fool that I was. I had to catch you in his arms—"

"Clyde... what are you saying?"

Turned back to me, didn't you? After he'd had you—and thrown you over, like he does all his women. Thought I wouldn't find out. Expected me to marry you—but why should I? He didn't—did he?" His mouth worked oddly, as if it were difficult to form words.

Preston stepped forward. "Listen, Dixon. You're drunk or you wouldn't insult Lucy Lee like this. Why, she's—"

"I know. You're gonna try to lie her out of it, aren't you? But it won't work, do you hear, it won't work. She can go to hell, for all I care!" He advanced toward the other man, hands clenched. "And you, too, you—" With a curse he swung on Preston, striking him a terrific blow which caught the director full on the chin and felled him to the ground. Swinging around with the force of the blow Clyde staggered and losing his balance, came crashing down also and lay still.

Lucy Lee, dazed by the accusations flung at her, felt her way blindly toward the house, aware as she did that Shirley Moore had come out of the shadows and was stooping over Clyde. She's the one who's been poisoning his mind, she thought. Oh, God, let me get away from here. Clyde... to say such horrible things about me. Oh, how could he... how could he?

She ran through the hallway and out of the house, not knowing or caring which way she turned. The sound of her tapping heels awakened echoes in the quiet street. A man, stepping from his car, held out his arms and stopped her headlong flight.

The man who caught Lucy Lee in his extended arms, braced himself and clutched her tighter as she tried to wrench free. "Hey, wait a minute, sister! Where you going in such a hurry—somebody's house on fire?"

"Don," Lucy Lee exclaimed. "Where on earth did you come from?"

"Where are you heading for?" he countered. "What's happened to the boy friend?"

"I'm going home and I never want to see Clyde Dixon again!" the girl sobbed. "Never as long as I live!"

"Oh, that's the way things are, huh?" Ames rejoined. "The idea is that you're all washed up, far as Clyde is concerned. Through Absolutism, fin, n'est ce pas, Mademoiselle?" He patted her shoulder paternally. "Well, now that's settled—let's beat it right back and get all this straightened out again, sweetheart. Leave it to Poppa. Fixing up lovers' quarrels is one of the best things I do. Come on!" He took her arm and started toward the house.

"This is one thing you'll never be able to straighten out," Lucy Lee blazed in a choked voice. "And I'm not going to stand here talking about it, either. I'm going home!"

"All right, baby, you win," he said quickly. "Hop in my car and I'll take you home, if that's the way you feel, even if I don't know what it's all about."

They drove to the Carter house in silence, Lucy Lee staring stonily ahead and Don throwing an occasional questioning glance at her set, unyielding profile. What in the name of all the saints could that young fool of a Clyde Dixon have done to upset her like this? It must be something pretty bad, he told himself, to make Lucy Lee act this way, a sweet kid like her.

Why, he had never seen her even angry before, much less in such a state of white resentment, or whatever it was. Jealousy, more than likely. Probably that double-crossing little so-and-so of a "Miss Parisian Toilettries" was at the bottom of it. She had always hated Lucy Lee. He continued to throw covert glances at his companion but she did not speak until they had entered the house and stood in the living room.

"Don, is there a train leaving for New Orleans early in the morning?"

"Sure, about nine o'clock. Southern Pacific. Why?"

"Daddy Carter and Juddy and I are going to take it," she answered with lips held tightly to prevent their trembling. "We're going home."

"What are you talking about, gal? Have you gone clean off your nut? Going home—what for? You can't do that," he protested.

"Will you buy the tickets for us, please? There must be money enough left to get us back to Rosemead, isn't there?"

He grabbed her shoulders in a grip tighter than he realized but she did not flinch. "Listen here, Lucy Lee, is this on the level? What in God's name has happened to make you talk such damfool nonsense?"

Her eyes were hurt, bewildered, but they did not waver. "It isn't nonsense, Don. I simply feel that I can't stay in this hateful place another day. There's nothing here but jealousy and gossip and lies! I told him it would part us—begged him to come away. But he wouldn't listen. Well, I'm going—back home where I belong. And try to forget—all this."

"But what happened, Lucy Lee?" Ames asked again.

"Clyde said horrible, untrue things about me... said he didn't want to marry me. I wasn't fit to be his wife."

"What?" Ames cried. "Has he gone completely nuts?"

"He's been listening to gossip and he believes that Neville Preston and I—" She stopped abruptly, unable to utter the words.

Ames groaned. "I must be going screwy, too. What you're telling me doesn't make sense. Why, that lad worships you, Lucy Lee. He thinks you're a little sugar angel just down from heaven."

"You wouldn't say that if you had heard him tonight. Just because Neville Preston put his arms around me when he helped me with my wrap. We were out in the garden, looking for Clyde. And Mr. Preston tried to kiss me. Then, before I could get away... Clyde came out... and said those awful things about us."

She began to sob, her fortitude shattered, delicate young body shaken by the storm. With an awkward hand he stroked her arm, making ridiculous soothing sounds in his throat. "There, there, it's gonna be all right, baby. Of course I'll fix you up. Leave it to Poppa. Don't cry like this... I hate like the devil to hear a woman cry. Damn that buzzard, Clyde Dixon! If I just had my mitts on him right now—"

The sobs slowly ceased. "Don't blame him so much, Don. Maybe it isn't entirely his fault. It's just Hollywood."

A few hours later Don drove Lucy Lee, Juddy and a bewildered Wakefield Carter to the station. This accomplished, and after a last vain plea to Lucy Lee, he saw them aboard the train bound for New Orleans and home.

"Goodbye, Don," Lucy Lee said softly. "Thanks again for all you've done."

The last call of "All aboard" sounded and Ames swung off the train, standing there for a final wave of the hand as it pulled out. He turned away and, walking through the station, caught the odor of food as he passed the lunch counter. He had had no breakfast but there was no time for that now.

First, he must find that young idiot Clyde Dixon. Driving to the hotel where Clyde was living he learned that Mr. Dixon was not in his suite and not, in fact, occupied at all last night. He proceeded to the house maintained so generously by Shirley Moore's supposed uncle, for he had a shrewd suspicion it was there he would discover the missing hero.

The maid who came to the door of Shirley's house informed him that Miss Moore was not up yet and had left orders that she was not to be disturbed before noon.

"That's all right, but this is important," Ames insisted. "You wake her up and tell her I've got to see her, pronto. I'll take the responsibility."

He lit a cigarette and settling back on a chaise longue, closed his smarting eyes and prepared to wait. It was some little time before he was summoned to Shirley's exotic red and white room. She was still in bed, wearing a diaphanous night dress, and she was very sleepy and exceedingly angry.

Baptists	0	2	.000
Demings	0	3	.000

Three of the Class B City Basketball League 10 teams kept their first round records unblemished by gaining victories at the Memorial building gym last night.

The Columbians and Trades Class each chalked up their third straight wins, while Krauss' Heels gained their second consecutive victory.

The Columbians came from behind in the final quarter to nose out Demings, 17 to 15. The Pumpmovers held an 11 to 7 lead at halftime and were out in front 13 to 9 at the close of the third period.

J. Rogers led the Columbians last period spurt in which they scored eight points while holding Demings to two markers.

Rogers carried off individual honors in the contest by hooping five field goals for 10 points.

The Trades Class gained a 16 to 11 victory over the Christians after holding only a slim lead throughout the second and third quarters and trailing in the first.

The Christians led 3 to 0 at the end of the first period, but the Trades Class pulled out in front, 8 to 7, at halftime. The Trades Class led 12 to 11 at the end of the third quarter.

Krauss' Heels piled up a big lead in the opening quarter to roll to a 24 to 17 win over the Baptists. The Heels had things all their own way throughout the contest and led 11 to 6 at halftime.

Howard Tibbs set the scoring pace for the Krauss team, making five field goals and one free throw for 11 points.

Reich Trojans, who lost their second game of the first round, came out on top in the other contest on last night's Class B program, defeating Whit's Garage, 19 to 9. It was the Trojans' second win against one loss.

BOWLING RESULTS

First place teams were defeated in the American and Quaker City Bowling leagues last night and the teams that turned the trick set new high single and three game scores in both leagues.

Mullins Foremen upset Mullins Press Room, former co-holder of the American league lead, and the Altohouse Motors defeated the first-place Colonial Billiards in the Quaker City loop.

The Foremen rolled a 944 single game and a 2658 series in taking two games from the Press Room. The Altohouse team turned in a 947 single game and a 2599 three-game score in winning two games from the Billiards.

The American loop acquired a new leader last night as Reich Sports won three games from the Forgotten Five to move into first place. The Ohio Edison, which was formerly tied with Mullins Press Room for the lead, lost three games to Fernengel's Colts.

The Colonial Billiards remained in first place in the Quaker City loop despite their losses to Altohouse's.

Albert Wright of the Electric Furnace of the American league had the best scores of the night, hitting a 256 single game and a 605 series. Wright bunched eight straight strikes in his 256 game.

POPULARITY OF PRO GRID GAME LEADING TREND

Play-For-Pay Game Gets New Prominence In Sports World

NOTE: This is the last of a series analyzing the seventh annual Associated Press sports poll. It covers replies to the query on the year's chief athletic trend.

BY ALAN GOULD
 NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Notwithstanding some confusion in the minds of our sports experts as to just where we are going, in some respects, it's obvious they think the growth in popularity of professional football is the most striking development of 1937.

Of all the trends or cross-currents noted during the year, the pro gridiron boom attracted most attention, as well as a bigger share of the sports-page headlines than ever before. For one thing, it is still fresh in mind. For another, the championship featuring Sammy Baugh and the Washington Redskins, produced the most exciting football of 1937, amateur, pro or semi-pro.

No other trend or development was even close to the vote of 22 out of 53 experts participating in the seventh annual Associated Press poll.

Seven noted the growing popularity of football in general, five emphasized the paralyzing increase in gate receipts, while five more suggested that defensive grid maneuvers, such as the five-man line, represented the year's most conspicuous trend.

Otherwise the poll reflected nothing so much as contrasts of opinion or viewpoint. Five sports editors pointed to more liberal collegiate views on the subsidization of athletes, including "more open recruiting" or "calm acceptance of professionalism in college football," but three other believe the trend is toward more "de-emphasis," less recruiting, and decreased demands for all-winning teams.

The east's competitive renaissance in football was duly noted, together with the middle west's slump in team power, but one observer stressed that no one section has a monopoly on "tough" teams.

Other gridiron trends cited: Low-scoring average in major games, growth of popularity of six-man and 150-pound teams, decrease in use of lateral pass, and the presence of more Irish players in the Notre Dame lineup.

Increased interest and (or) gate receipts were noted in at least six sports—baseball, tennis, golf, polo, horse racing and professional as well as college football.

So far as boxing was concerned, the vote was 3 to 1 in support of decreased interest. One observer claims the dearth of big-time fistic material can be traced directly to the slump in small-town boxing business, but another suggested the spread of amateur ring tournaments will help take up the slack.

ALABAMA HEADS FOR ROSE BOWL

Special Train Carries Crimson Tide To Pacific Coast

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Dec. 21.—Victory-minded members of Alabama's Crimson Tide waited impatiently today for the special train which will carry them to Pasadena and the Rose Bowl.

The squad of 40 players—the fifth from Tuscaloosa to make the westward trek—are of one mind about the New Year's day football game with California.

"We ain't going out there to get beat," said Jim Ryba, giant tackle, and fellow squad members shouted approval.

A vicious scrimmage completed the "homework" of the red-clad warriors yesterday afternoon. Bags were packed and all were on hand today long before the special train was due at 10 a. m. (CST).

Coach Frank Thomas and five assistants go with the team. Nearly a score of others, including high officials of the university and a group of newspaper men, compose the official party.

At Toledo, Desales college overhauled Giffin's quint from Van Wert by a 50 to 24 score. The Toledoans were ahead, 29 to 11, at the rest period. Smith, a guard, was high individual scorer with 14 points.

Illinois Wesleyan took an unsuccessful whirl at the industrial loop at Akron—coming out on the mournful end of a 40 to 14 tussle with Goodyear.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y. — An up-state newspaper editor has proposed carving a likeness of Gov. George Clinton on the slope of Pok-a-Moonshine mountain, in the Adirondacks, as a "lasting memorial" to New York State's first chief executive. Clinton was elected in June, 1777.

Baseball "Grand Old Game" Veteran Connie Mack Says

Philadelphia Manager Will Be 75 Thursday, And Still Gets Big Kick Out of Business

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 21.—Nearing his 75th birthday, Connie Mack, veteran manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, said today that baseball is a "grand, old game."

"If you had to start over, Mr. Mack," he was asked, "would you be a doctor, a lawyer, a merchant, an actor, a playwright, an aviator, or what?"

"I'd go into the business I did—baseball," replied the "old gentleman" who will soon start his 55th season on the diamond. He will be 75 Thursday.

Looking ahead to next year Connie thinks the A's will be "better, much better."

Last year the A's led the league during the first part of the season, then went into a slump, ending the year in seventh place.

Breezy Briefs Of Sport From Brietz To You

BY EDDIE BRIETZ
 NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Sure didn't take Harry Mehre long to get that "old feeling," he quit Georgia and announced he was through with coaching. . . . a week later he pops up as one of the candidates for Ed Walker's old job at Mississippi.

Alabama had 20,000 requests for its 5,000 Rose Bowl ticket allotment.

If Louisiana State is so much stronger than Alabama (as the Sugar Bowl horn blowers are tooting) why was Alabama the first choice? . . . Don Bennett, who coached South High of Worcester, Mass., to six district football championships in six years, rates a great big hand and you can count this as a starter.

Henry Armstrong got a rousing welcome when he arrived home in Los Angeles after his eastern knockout tour. The boys still insist at least one top flight Pacific coast football coach will move eastward soon. . . . to Michigan?

Here's bad news for Jimmy Nelson of Lansingburg High, Troy, N. Y.: Just when it looked like he had set a season's record for High schoolers with a 106-touchdown run, Duane Moore of Ponca City (Okla.) High had to go and spoil things with a 108-yard gallop. . . . Red Dawson, Tulane's fine young football coach, is a bridegroom. . . . around New Orleans Louisiana State is a 2 to 1 favorite over Santa Clara in the Sugar Bowl. . . . Clay Calhoun of Loyola, (New Orleans) who made the AP's "Little All-America," is a descendant of John Calhoun, the fiery southern statesman of ante-bellum days. . . . also he's quite a ball player.

Michigan held Dartmouth to one point in the first half while scoring 21. John Townsend, great Michigan forward, scored 13 points.

Illinois left the undefeated ranks, bowing to Temple 51 to 38 at Philadelphia. It was the first defeat for the Illini in five games. The tall Temple five outplayed the Big Ten co-champions all the way and led at halftime 26 to 15. Lou Boudreau scored 11 points and Lew Behner 12 for the losers.

Purdue's "50 points or no-count" aggregation won its fifth straight game by downing Loyola's fast team 55 to 41. It was the fifth time Purdue has scored more than 50 points a game this season. The Boilermakers, with the sharpshooting Jewell Young bagging 19 points, led at the half 29 to 15, held off a last-half Loyola rally and won going away.

Minnesota, co-champion of the conference, won its fourth game, downing Nebraska 33 to 28, although the Gophers were outshot in field goals 13 to 12. Minnesota's speed and smart passing played a big part in its victory. Gordon Addington scored four field goals to pace the winners.

Iowa remained in the undefeated class, winning a fourth straight tilt by turning back Xavier of Cincinnati 33 to 28.

The Big Ten cagers collected on five out of nine charity tosses to build up their margin, while Xavier muffed all but two out of 13 chances from the foul line.

The Cincinnatians led the tall Corn Staters at the half, 10 to 8. Forward Johnson paced Iowa with 11 points while Center Geselbracht was Xavier's high point man with 10 units.

Marietta college converted a non-conference tilt with Ohio Wesleyan into a scoring spree at the Ohio river city, swamping the Bishops by a 65 to 41 count. The Pioneers enjoyed a 27 to 18 half-time advantage. Center Nesha contributed 18 of the victor's points.

Marshall college's quintet, on an eastern trip, tucked away their fifth straight victory of the season by romping over Long Island university, 50 to 40, at New York. The "Big Green" maintained a consistent 10-point lead during the battle. Their half-time margin was 35 to 16. Wilcox looped 16 Marshall points.

At Toledo, Desales college overhauled Giffin's quint from Van Wert by a 50 to 24 score. The Toledoans were ahead, 29 to 11, at the rest period. Smith, a guard, was high individual scorer with 14 points.

Illinois Wesleyan took an unsuccessful whirl at the industrial loop at Akron—coming out on the mournful end of a 40 to 14 tussle with Goodyear.

Vote On War Proposal Is Blocked Effectively By President, Sec. Hull

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 20—Con- gressional foes of the proposal to require a popular vote before the United States could go to war said today it had been blocked effec- tively by the opposition of Presi- dent Roosevelt and Secretary Hull.

Some friends of the proposition conceded there was little likelihood of Congress approving it in the near future.

A "people's referendum" has been proposed by half a dozen senators and by Rep. Ludlow (D-Ind.), who recently obtained the necessary 218 signatures to force house consid- eration during the session begin- ning in January.

The referendum could be required only by amendment of the con- stitution. A two-thirds vote by Con- gress is necessary for the submis- sion of an amendment to the states.

Chairman Pittman (D-Nev.) of the Senate foreign relations com- mittee said he opposed the referen- dum idea because it might lead to serious complications in drafting foreign policy.

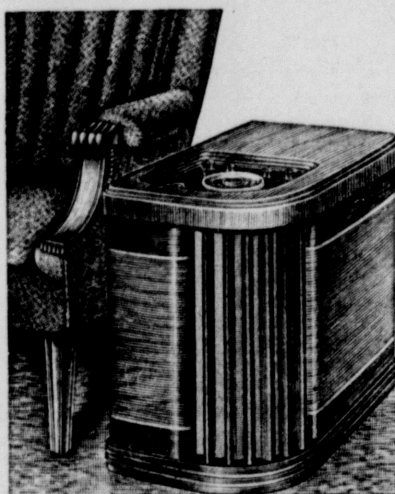

In addition, he said, the principle of referendum would override the Democratic theory that the people's will is expressed through their elected representatives in Congress.

"I wish I had one too..."

Keeping (the children) up with the Joneses is a common problem in most homes.

"We were getting behind in our bills and payments because of sickness and a reduced salary. The children were neglected and were missing out on everything. We couldn't even afford a 'Christ- mas' for them. A friend referred us to The City Loan where we obtained a loan that cut our pay- ment spending more than one- third. We now have $20 more out of our pay each month for our home and personal expenses. It's like old times again."

VALUE RECEIVED. Have you taken a good look at a boy's bicycle lately? There's a perfect ex- ample of present-day values for you—costs no more than years ago yet has all the "modern conveni- ences" and improvements.

Today loans are made on better terms—made better to suit your needs and income. The City Loan offers you more for your loan cost today than ever before. If you need cash for any good purpose make sure you get "value received" at The City Loan. Write for free booklet. It costs nothing to find out about our service.
